The manor of Keele was held by the Sneyd family and in 1580 Ralph Sneyd built the original Hall.

In 1851 the original house was replaced with the current Jacobean design by architect Anthony Salvin.

The Hall was requisitioned by the army during World War II and in 1948 with the aid of grant funding the Keele estate was purchased from another Ralph Sneyd for the establishment of the University College of North Staffordshire, which in 1962 became Keele University.
